

- Speaking French opens up study opportunities at renowned French universities and business schools, ranked among the top higher education institutions in Europe and the world.
- French is both a working language and an official language of the United Nations, the European Union.

Employability of Diploma/Certificate holders of German/French

- Students, in various universities, are given the opportunity to go abroad for various projects. For instance, a team of 20 Delhi University students went to France recently to teach English in institutes and schools
- A number of BA and MA students take up freelance translation work. Many take up tuition classes, both for schoolchildren and for those who want a crash course. Tuition rates vary according to the language and the student's level of proficiency.
- Translation too fetches good money. The going rate for translation from German to English, for instance, is about Rs 3 per word for a three to four page document, because of rising competition in the job market.

With a degree in foreign languages, in addition to being able to travel to other countries and speak with their inhabitants, graduates can use their linguistic skills to find rewarding employment in fields such as foreign language teaching, interpreting or consulting.

Plans of the Department

- Teaching based on industrial requirements.
- Integration of Need based skill development programmes
- Giving International/National Exposure to our Students and Research Scholars
- Training to the students in learning, understanding, reading and writing and communicating in the language concerned
- More mini-projects orientation to the students as a part of course in each semester
- Exploring the Possibility of tie up with companies for placement on continuous basis.

University Evening college, Mangaluru

As an evening programme in the University College Mangalore, the Department of MBA (IB) was established by Mangalore University in 2009 and the Post Graduate Department of Commerce (Evening) was set up in 2014. Until date 7 batches of MBA and 2 batches of M.com have flowered out of the college campus with a strong & long record academic performance with an array of dynamic activities of the departments. The University has accorded a separate establishment to these under the name of "University Evening College", from the year 2015. To tune to the additional needs of corporate community. University has stepped to launch Certificate and Diploma Courses in various foreign languages like German, French, Spanish, Russian and Japanese. With an establishment of a Degree College B.Com and B.A Degree Batches, it has initiated Diploma and Certificate Courses in German and French languages from the academic year 2016-17. As the classes are scheduled during evening hours, these courses may also be pursued by the students of PUC, Undergraduate and Post-graduate studies along with their regular studies.

About Department of Foreign Languages

- Department of Foreign languages is a part of the University Evening College is located in heart of the city to cater the needs of students of this region who wanted to pursue knowledge on one/two foreign languages
- This evening programme will allow you to gain an internationally recognised qualification at times that are convenient to you while still maintaining a steady income without having to change too much in your daily life.
- The popularity of the select languages can be gauged from the fact that there were about 50 enquiries for 25 seats in French and 80 enquiries for 25 seats in German.
- Encouraged by the response, MU is planning to start a course in four languages – Spanish, Russian, Japanese and Italian in the days ahead.
- In addition to the experienced regular faculty, there is guest faculty to teach and guide students. Series of special lectures by scholars with eminence will be arranged frequently.
