MANGALORE UNIVERSITY

The Mangalore University, accredited 'A' grade by the NAAC Peer Team is situated about 20 Km away from Mangalore city. The University has set its goal to educational endeavor for three Districts, Dakshina Kannada, Udupi and Kodagu. Vision of Mangalore University is to evolve as a National Center of advanced studies and to cultivate quality human resource.

POST GRADUATE CENTRE, KODAGU

The Post Graduate Centre was established in January 07, 2014 at Chikka Aluvu, Somwarpet Taluk, Kodagu in 104 acres is surrounded by Western Ghats to cater the academic needs of aspirants of Higher education in and around Kodagu District. Presently, the centre has 12 P.G. Programmes along with facilities and ample opportunities for research programs. Since a humble beginning of PG Centre, there has been no looking back every year the centre crosses new milestones.

DEPARTMENT OF STUDIES IN BIOCHEMISTRY

The Post Graduate Department of Biochemistry was established in the year 2002 in Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa College at Cauvery Campus, Madikeri, Kodagu District. The Post Graduate Department of Biochemistry was shifted to a picturesque place namely Chikka Aluvu, Somwarpet Taluk, Kodagu District in January 2014. Six permanent faculties are working and 8 part-time faculty members. The department has secured environment for learning with various teaching facilities, exposure to fundamentals in academic and research on various aspects of biochemistry. Presently, its research scholars are pursuing for PhD programme. The Department of Biochemistry has ongoing projects funded from DST, VCB, BRNS and UGC.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Modern research methods have brought back into the spotlight the concept of developing novel natural therapeutics. Many front-line pharmaceuticals in contemporary use owe their origins to natural sources. The current trends, challenges and successes in the industrial exploitation of natural therapeutic products are important from a global perspective. In this context, the Department of Biochemistry, Mangalore University organized two days national conference on Bioactive Natural Products and Health Care. The impetus sparking of this scientific inquiry in particular is the result of many epidemiologic studies that have shown protective effects of plant-based diets on various diseases such as cardiovascular diseases (CVD), diabetes, cancers, and neurological disorders. The event will bring together key scientists and industry inter-disciplinary scientists to discuss recent progress in this field, identify new perspectives and promote networking to facilitate the use of bioactive natural products in medical and related areas of societal need.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND ?

This conference will be suitable for researchers, academics, R & D scientists, dieticians, nutraceutical product formulators, geneticists, physiotherapists etc. It also provides a premier interdisciplinary platform for researchers, practitioners and educators to present a did discuss. About conference

India has a long known tradition of treating diseases by using a combination of herbal constituents. In recent years, scientific evidence for treating disease is unravelled by identifying active bio-component in these herbal formulations. First such compound identified and extended for therapeutic uses was acetyl salicylic acid, which is widely used over the years as a pain killer. Likewise, vincristine, quinine and very recently artemisia are extracted from plants. Use of plant bio-actives apart from their uses as therapeutic agents is widely used as preventive medicine. The list of compounds belongs to flavonoids, polyphenolics, isoflavones and glycosides. These compounds exhibit their activities as antioxidants, anti-inflammatory, antimicrobial, anti-cancerous, anti-diabetic or in treating Parkinson's or Alzheimer's disease.

To discuss the current trends in the various research aspects on the role of bio-actives/phytochemicals (phytochemicals) and their effect on human health, 39th annual conference of IABMS is being organized. The conference gives a platform to exchange work and ideas between biochemists, botanists, chemists or pharmacologists with clinicians.

Thrust Areas: Drug Discovery and Development, Biomedical instrumentation in Diagnosis and Treatment, Biomarkers in Diseases, Bio-safety and Bio-control of Diseases, AYUSH Approaches to Health Care, Biomolecular Studies for Diagnosis and Treatment, Life Style Diseases, Management and Treatment.

Conference Disciplines:

Biochemistry
Chemistry/Analytical Chemistry
Biotechnology, Biosciences
Life and Health Sciences
Botany/Ethnobotany/Phytomedicine, Pharmacology/Pharmacognosy
Microbiology
Ayurvedic Biology,
Nanotechnology/Nanoscience/Nano-biomedicine, Cancer Biology, Inflammatory Diseases
Autoimmune Diseases, Metabolic Syndromes and Cellular Toxicity.
