

MANGALORE UNIVERSITY
Department of Biosciences
M.Sc. Food Science and Nutrition

PRACTICALS

FNP 555 CLINICAL NUTRITION AND DIETETICS II

Course outcome:

- Describe dietary management for different chronic disorders based on biochemical parameters and activity like mild, moderate and sedentary.
- Plan diet for various diseases by considering the biochemical parameters.
- Prepare planned diet and sensory evaluating it.
- Counsel the patients depending on their disease conditions.

Dietary management as per the biochemical parameters. Planning and preparation of the diet for the following conditions ;

Liver damage

Hepatitis

Cholecystitis

Chronic pancreatitis

Chronic renal failure

Renal calculi

Glomerulonephritis

Atherosclerosis

Congestive heart failure

Hypertension

Phenylketonuria

Lactose intolerance

