About Mangalore University

Mangalore University stands 24th among the top 50 institutes of higher learning in the country in terms of publication output. With a vision to evolve as a national center of advanced studies and to cultivate quality human resource, Mangalore University focuses on wholesome development of all its stakeholders. The university campus of Mangalagangothri is located about 18 km to the south-east of the historic coastal town of Mangalore, and sets the tone for the educational endeavours of the three districts under the jurisdiction of the University.

The University ('A' Grade from NAAC) has excellent infrastructure facilities in the campus. It is the first university in the country to start Bachelor's degree programmes in Hotel Management & Tourism, Fashion Design, Apparel/Garment Design, Leather Design & Technology, and Human Resource Development and post-graduate programmes in Computer Software and Yogic Sciences.

The University has established several endowment chairs with the objective of enabling studies on the development achieved in various areas. The University has academic collaborations with several premier national and international institutions.

About the Department of Commerce

The Department of Post Graduate Studies and Research in Commerce was established in 1969 as a part of the PG Centre of the University of Mysore, and became an integral part of Mangalore University in 1980. The department offers M.Com, M.Com (HRD), and PhD programmes. From the past 50 years the department is continuously engaged in research activities and is active in responding to the problems of this region. The commerce department of Mangalore University has given a versatile talent pool to the economy in form of its talented alumni.

M.Com course is the most sought out program of the university and the department has the maximum number of students in the campus. Nearly twenty one colleges affiliated to the university offer M.Com courses and the Department of Commerce extends its assistance to these colleges. The M.Com (HRD) course is a super speciality course with major focus on the area of Human Resource Management and Development. The thrust areas of research studies in the commerce base are Trade and Exchange, Banking, Human Resource Development and Management, Finance, Small Business Management, Marketing Management, Rural Development and many more.

Background of the Conference

Innovations need not be a planned affair everytime in the national and international souk. The trends are changing and so are the needs of individuals. Responding to the needs of the customers is the business of business houses.

The economy has observed some of the recent trends that have emerged and these trends and recent advances have changed the course of industry and commerce. The conference aims to have a discussion on these latest innovations and predict the future of these changes. The discussions shall be on whether these changes are here to stay or they are a passing fad.

Contemporary innovations are seen in every field, let it be manufacturing or the service sector. These recent advances are instrumental for the growth of industry and commerce. CIIC-2019 aims to identify these advances and find out the future changes that may generate a new wave in the economy.
