About the Workshop

The basic meaning and ideas of social justice is that everyone irrespective of caste, religion, sex, language and region should have equal rights, opportunities and responsibilities. In this context every nation including India also are functioning in making human life more progressive. But due to multi diversity rights vulnerable groups have gained great visibility and relevance all over the world. India is no exception. Because of Its multi-ethnic, multi- religious, multi -linguistics and multi-culture it is more open to the challenges in ensuring the social justice for sections of people. Despite this plurality structural and graded inequalities continues to persists disadvantaging vulnerability groups and communities. It is in this context that minorities, Dalits, Women and children rights have assumed added significance since they represent some of the most discriminated and oppressed groups in this country.

To develop a theoretical and practical understanding of the various issues relating to minority rights, women's rights, Dalit rights, Children rights and also general issues like forest rights, Laboure rights etc. and also in order to better understand the structural discrimination faced by these communities, the department of Sociology, Mangalore university in collaboration with Dr Babu Jagjivanaram Research Institute social welfare department, Center for the Study of Social Exclusion & Inclusive Policy, Law School of India university, Bengaluru has been organized two days national workshop on 22nd and 23rd November 2024 at Mangalore University campus, Mangalagangothri.
